

FIGHT TO KEEP OIL FROM TAX LIST STARTED

President Recommends That It Be Put on Free List by Congress.

3 CORNERED FIGHT

House Turns Into Home Stretch of the Tariff Battle.

Washington, July 18.—The house put on its fighting clothes today as it turned into the home stretch of the tariff battle.

Oil duties are before the house for consideration with a three cornered fight in progress and President Harding's influence over congress under test. The president has recommended that oil be placed on the free list in order that reciprocal trade agreement negotiations with Mexico shall not be embarrassed. The bill as reported out by the ways and means committee provides a duty of 35 cents per barrel on crude oil and 25 cents per barrel on fuel oil.

In the tug of war over this legislation the independent oil producers from fifteen states backed by argu- ment protectionists from other states are lined up against the American interests in Mexican oil production and the users of fuel oils in the United States, including New England mills, public utilities, southern railways and automobile associations, fear advances in the price of gasoline because of the duty.

Rep. Treadway of Massachusetts, opened the fight against the duty. He declared this duty would add a cent a gallon to fuel oil, 300,000,000 barrels of which are used in New England mills annually and would be reflected in $5,000,000 additional costs of New England mill productions.

The free oil advocates quoted President Harding as opposing the duties on oil admittedly aimed at Mexican oil imports which amount to 13,500,000 barrels a month, because the legislation would complicate and interfere with negotiations for commercial agreements now under way with Mexico.

The Massachusetts men were charged by Representative Chandler, Oklahoma, and other advocates of the duty on oil with inconsistency in demanding protection for everything produced in New England and free trade for everything produced outside New England, but needed in that section, such as oil, hides, and cotton. Chandler insisted that free oil is giving the Standard Oil company its opportunity to get control of the properties of independent producers and to strengthen its grip on the oil industry of the country.

Large consumers of fuel oil like public utilities, railways and steamship lines, joined in opposing the duty on oil because of the fear that it would be reflected in increased prices for fuel oil which is being substituted for steam coal because of the increased cost of coal. Each side in the fight brought charges against the order of maintaining huge and costly lobbies at Washington to influence legislation.

NEPHEW OF HAMON AMNESIA VICTIM

Weehawken, N. J., July 18.—Lieut. George Hamon, believed to be a nephew of the late Jake L. Hamon, Republican leader of Oklahoma, who was shot and killed by Clara Smith Hamon, is in North Hudson hospital here today suffering from amnesia while the authorities are endeavoring to get in touch with relatives in Oklahoma.

Hamon was picked up while aimlessly wandering about the ferry. He had only recently returned from France, and his papers showed he had been in the American hospital at Neuilly.

A letter evidently written to "Uncle Jake" while he was in the hospital and never mailed, was found in his pocket. It spoke of not having heard from his parents in two years, and of "taking the yacht out for a few months' cruise" when young Hamon returned.

HEAT WAVE RETURNS.

Chicago, July 18.—A return of the heat wave Sunday after a two day break in the blistering weather, drove thousands of persons into the parks and lake for relief. While the highest official temperature was given as 97, street thermometers registered well over 100 in the shade, the highest temperature recorded since 1916.

LIVES OF OVER 300 ENDANGERED AS SHIP GOES ON ROCKS IN RAPIDS OF RIVER

Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 18.—Three hundred and twenty passengers aboard the steamer Rapids King, which went on the rocks in the rapids of the St. Lawrence river were recovering today from the thrilling experience of being rescued after it seemed that all aboard were destined to go down with the vessel in the swirling rapids.

Small boats attempting to reach the steamer's position were whirled about like jackstraws. Hope of rescue was almost given up when Canadian lifeguards succeeded in getting cable to the vessel and running it ashore. A life boat was attached to the cable and it made many trips between ship and shore carrying the frightened passengers.

MAKES FIRST TRIP TO SPRING VALLEY

Some people take a vacation from their business in order to travel around the country a bit. For others, if it was not for business, they would never get beyond the narrow groove in which they live.

Such was the case with Patrolman Charles Simms, colored member of the Police Department. Simms saw America first, and Greene County last. The other night a call at Police Headquarters was followed by the colored officer being sent with Patrolman Fred Jones to Spring Valley. It was the first time Simms had ever been in Spring Valley.

MOONSHINER IS FATALLY SHOT BY U. S. AGENTS

Kentuckian Meets Death Where He Killed Man Ten Years Ago

PUTS UP FIGHT

Henry Wilson Escaped Convict Plays Game to the End.

Pineville, Ky., July 18.—In the doorway of his cabin on Brownies Creek, three miles east of Cubage, where, ten years ago he shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Ed. Meece, Henry Wilson, 49, a noted moonshiner, was shot and fatally wounded at daybreak by a posse made up of revenue men and state officers sent to arrest him. Wilson had escaped from the Mount Vernon road camp, in Rock Castle county, June 5 last, returned to his old home and again engaged in moonshining operations. He is survived by his widow and four children.

Wilson lived three and one half hours after being shot. Members of the posse bearing the moonshiner's body were just entering town, to take Wilson to a hospital when he died. The wounded man apparently suffered little pain. The posse, consisting of a score of men, reached Wilson's cabin home at 4:30 o'clock in the morning. State road superintendent Charles Greene was in charge. He was accompanied by deputy sheriffs John Wilson and Henry Jackson and two guards from the reformatory. Prohibition agents J. M. Kavanaugh of Lancaster and Sam J. Watkins of Jackson and Deputy U. S. Marshal, Charles Stewart were in charge of the government squad sent out by C. L. Winfrey, enforcement officer at Somerset. Winfrey himself was unable to take part in the expedition owing to a serious injury to his leg suffered in a raid several days ago. Just at daybreak the posse approached Wilson's home surrounded it. Green walked up to the door and knocked. At first there was no response. The knocking was renewed. Suddenly the door was flung open and Wilson, armed with a huge revolver demanded to know what was wanted of him.

Green calmly replied: "You're under arrest." The moonshiner started to lift his gun. Green stepped to one side and three bullets from high powered rifles of members of the posse found their mark in the gaunt mountaineer's body. Members of the posse bound the moonshiner's wounds and immediately started with him to Pineville.

In the report made to U. S. Commissioner J. G. Rollin by government men, Wilson was quoted as saying on regaining consciousness: "Well, boys you got me all right. I am sorry for only one thing. I would have liked to have taken a few of you along with me. If you had come any other time of the day you would have found me hard to catch."

Wilson, it was said, had spent practically his entire life in moonshining.

THREE YEARS AGO GREAT BATTLE ON

New York, July 18.—Three years ago today began the counter offensive on the northwestern end of the Chateau Thierry salient which marked the beginning of the end for the German army. A wedge seven kilometers deep was driven into the German lines by the Americans cooperating with the first Moroccan. The attack, one of the most brilliant victories in the history of American arms started the German rout which never ceased until the armistice.

PASTOR'S WIFE ELOPES WITH NEIGHBOR

for his health had eloped with Earl Vernoy, a neighbor and married man. Duryea conducted a little mission at Monticello. The Vernoy family attended, and soon Mrs. Duryea and Mr. Vernoy worked up a strong friendship. "I haven't sanctioned or condoned the elopement of my wife with Earl Vernoy," said Preacher Duryea. "I was helpless to prevent it, and so I just decided to let her go to the end of her rope. If I had a home to give her and she would come back to me I would forgive her. Mine is perfect love; I love her with all my heart, sinful as she is!"

Army and Navy Aircraft Join In Attack On Vessel

Ex-German Armored Cruiser, Frankfurt, Survivor of Jutland Battle, First Heavily Armored Vessel To Be Target From Air.

Langley Field, Hampton, Va., July 18.—Four hits, all believed to be "duds" out of the first eleven bombs dropped on the ex-German cruiser Frankfurt by army bombers, were reported by the first attacking division of aviators, who returned here this afternoon.

On Board Destroyer Off Cape Charles, Va., July 18.—Aerial bombers, both army and navy, are on the qui vive today, for they get their first chance to try their explosive wares against a heavily armored vessel.

NATIONAL OPEN GOLF TOURNEY TO PLAY

New York, July 18.—Devotees of sport will have a final menu spread before them during the net few days. Interest of those who follow golf will center at Chevy Chase, Maryland, where the national open championship gets under way with the classic field of entries in its history.

The invasion of the British stars—Duncan, Mitchell, and Kirkwood, and the presence of Jock Hutchison and a host of crack American professionals, not to mention Chick Evans, national amateur and western champion and Bobbie Jones, the sensational youth from Atlanta, Ga., and other American amateurs of exceptional ability promises to make this year's tourney a historic one.

ENGLAND REJECTS FRENCH PROPOSAL

London, July 18.—France's proposal that the allies send reinforcements into Upper Silesia "because of the German menace" will be rejected by Great Britain, it was learned from a reliable source today. According to the informant, England will tell France that she cannot spare troops for Upper Silesia at the present time and furthermore that the British see no need for reinforcements in Silesia.

The evening Standard, in commenting upon the French note of Saturday says that the French proposals are only an invitation to more trouble.

FIRE SWEEPS PRISON

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 18.—A dozen or more prisoners at the old western penitentiary are known to have been shot some being seriously wounded, and a large part of the historic old Pennsylvania prison is in ruins, this following a fire which started just after noon with a riot breaking out in the dining room at the same time. A number of prisoners were seriously injured by falling timbers.

OWEN MOORE MARRIES AGAIN

New York, July 18.—The marriage of Owen Moore, motion picture actor to Miss Kathryn Perry, his leading woman in several pictures, was announced. Mr. Moore recently was divorced from Mary Pickford, who later married Douglas Fairbanks. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were married at Greenwich, Conn., Saturday.

NEXT 24 HOURS WILL DECIDE FATE OF IRISH PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

JAPAN FAVORS INTERNATIONAL DISARMAMENT

Would Have Called Conference Himself Is Word.

Tokio, July 18.—Japan favors international disarmament and far eastern conference and probably would have called such a meeting herself if conditions had been favorable, according to Councillor Hayashi, of the foreign office today.

The foreign office attaché said that Japan is most anxious to know if immigration to South and Central America will be discussed. He added that he believed the Yapo land and Shantung questions had no place in the conference because sufficient time would intervene for direct negotiations on those matters before the Harding conference meets.

This is the first interview from Japanese foreign office since President Harding issued his call. The councillor emphasized the fact that he was expressing only his personal views but, because of his close relations with viscount Uchida, the foreign minister, it is believed that the statement reflects the views of the foreign minister.

After expressing his pleasure over the movement inaugurated by President Harding, the Japanese official pointed out that a general understanding over the Pacific question might cause dissension here. He said that Japan wanted to know if immigration questions affecting South and Central America will be taken up.

"As to Shantung peninsula and Yap Island they have no place in the conference," said Councillor Hayashi. "There are three months yet before the conference will take place. That is plenty of time to conclude direct negotiations with America and China. Shantung affects only China and Japan. China should be left alone to deal with Japan. That would be the best way to serve her own interests."

NAVAL AVIATION GIVEN ATTENTION BY JAP LEADERS

BY DUKE N. PARRY.

Tokio June 26.—(By special courier to San Francisco), July 18.—Japan has made extensive plans for equipment in naval aviation.

What she has received today from Germany, looked upon by some foreigners as so much wreckage, is a valuable asset, an addition to any nation's war machine. Her man power required to operate the machine she plans will be exclusive of her two training divisions, 2,250 men, and her machines need will total 300.

It has come by common expression in Japan that "Japan can never handle aircraft, that her aviators and her air conditions are against such success." Authorities deny this claim.

As for fields and facilities for putting these machines into the air, Japan has bought thousands of tons of land. She has spent huge sums of money on this work, and now, in addition to army and navy fields already established her properties include:

A new airdrome to be established at Hamamotobu. Hokkaido, costing $400,000.

New flying field being established at Pingyong, Korea, barracks, thirty sheds and numerous other buildings $2,500,000.

One hundred tons of land purchased by the navy at Ise Bay.

Two probable flying fields established on Bonin Islands.

Thus Japan's expansion in the matter of fields is seen to have reached upward of $5,000,000 and that recently.

English manufacturers would lose one of their great sources of income if the "peace time" orders of Japan were taken from them. Since the day when Armstrong, Whitworth Company of London and New Castle, began the building of the Japanese navy decades ago, the British manufacturer of war goods, has come to look upon the island ally of the far east as one of the really important customers of Great Britain. Today Japan is living up to that hope. While she is building up for any loss here by the splendid order she sends Britain for airplanes. A few such orders are given France.

To say that Japan is preparing with "feverish haste" is putting it mildly. She is losing not one day in which she may prepare for any conflict that may come.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT IN JAPAN FAVORS DISARMAMENT

Liverpool, England, July 18.—"Popular opinion in Japan favors disarmament and it is growing daily," said Take Tanaka, head of a delegation of Japanese parliamentarians who arrived here today. He added:

"The people favor disarmament because they realize that half of the national budget is for military and naval purposes."

VETERAN PHYSICIAN DIES

Cleveland, July 18.—Dr. Frank H. Todd, 72, who had practiced medicine for 45 years, died here last night. He had been inactive in his work until he became ill a week ago.

CAR SERVICE IN DAYTON MAY BE RESUMED SOON

Dayton, July 18.—Dayton may have car service yet today following the city commission's note to the car companies telling them that an objection to their resuming operation was withdrawn. The city officials said all efforts to obtain arbitration had been of no avail. Companies say they have sufficient men to operate but have asked new and old employees to return at a maximum rate of 45 cents an hour. The decision of the city commission came soon after the resignation of City Manager Barber, Joliet, Ill., man, who took office last February. F. O. Eichelberger takes Barber's place Aug. 1. The car men struck when the scale was cut from 62 cent to 45 cents maximum.

JAPAN TO ACCEPT U. S. INVITATION

London, July 18.—It is reported on the highest authority in Tokyo that Japan will accept unconditionally President Harding's invitation to an international conference in Washington, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo today.

Japan, added the dispatch, will discuss Yap island, the Shantung peninsula, Siberia and China, but will reserve the right to bring up the questions later on.

According to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent, Viscount Makino will be one of the delegates from Japan.

The Japanese commissioner of marine was quoted as saying that Japan "cannot afford not to restrict naval competition."

TO INVESTIGATE TAMPICO UPRISING

Mexico City, July 18.—Announcement was made today that General Enrique Estrada, minister of war, is going to Tampico to investigate personally the origin of the uprising. Officials expressed the belief that the surrender of General Herrera has ended all revolutionary troubles in the Tampico oil fields, at least for the time being. William Green, vice president of the Huasteca Petroleum Company, acted as mediator in arranging the surrender of General Herrera. Gen. Herrera surrendered to General Arnulfo Gomez, commander of the federal troops in the Tampico district.

RETURN TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 18.—President and Mrs. Harding and a party of guests who spent the week end cruising Chesapeake Bay on the Mayflower returned here early today.

CABINET MEETS AND SITUATION IS GONE OVER

Lloyd George and DeValera Meet in Conference Again Monday.

UNITY IS DEMANDED

Self Determination of Irish Nation Plea of Its Leader.

London, July 18.—The next 24 hours will decide the fate of the Irish peace negotiations, it was generally admitted today.

There was a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon when the Irish peace situation was canvassed.

Premier Lloyd George who had been conferring at his country estate at Chequers over the week end returned to London during the morning. It was stated that the premier would appear in the house of commons later in the day but it was regarded as unlikely that he would have any definite statement to make regarding Ireland.

After a period of uncertainty as to whether Lloyd George and DeValera would get together again this afternoon, it was announced at 2:30 o'clock that the Irish leader would confer with the premier at 4:15.

A brief statement given on by the Sinn Fein leader regarding the policy he is following here was interpreted as meaning that he would refuse to meet Sir James Craig in London. DeValera is emphasizing his demand for unity and the necessity for having a single Irish spokesman in the London conference.

"I have made no demand but the one I am entitled to make that of self determination for the Irish nation," said DeValera.

Great secrecy shrouded the informal conferences that were carried on during the week end by the Irish unionists, the republicans and the government officials. These were all held independent of each other for the purpose of arranging the details of the course each faction will pursue during the next few days.

The treasury department has been ordered to prepare for Premier Lloyd George bearing upon certain financial aspects of the proposed Irish settlement.

GREEKS ENCIRCLE TURKISH FORCES

Athens, July 18.—The Greeks are carrying out successfully a great encircling movement against the Turkish nationalists on the Anatolian battle front. Premier Gounaris announced today.

Official announcement that the Greeks have occupied the important railway city of Kutai was received here with great rejoicing.

AMMONIA FUMES OVERCOME FIREMEN

New York, July 18.—Ammonia fumes liberated by a four alarm fire in the refrigerating plant of the Phoenix Cheese Company, Washington Market, overcame dozens of firemen early today, rendered the district impassable for blocks around and stopped all traffic on the Ninth Avenue.

Damage amounting to more than $500,000 is believed to have been caused by the fire which is of mysterious origin.

JOHN PATTERSON RESIGNS N. C. R. JOB

Dayton, July 18.—John H. Patterson today resigned as president of the National Cash Register company, his son, Frederick B. Patterson, succeeding him. J. H. Barringer becomes general manager.

FILE RATE SCHEDULE

Columbus, July 18.—A rate schedule showing reductions of 20 percent effective August 20, in all local rates on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railway was filed today with the state utilities commission. This is the first general reduction in rates scheduled since 1913 in Ohio.

ANTI REDS DEFEATED

London, July 18.—According to a Moscow report received in Riga, says a dispatch to the Exchange, the army of General Makno, the anti-Bolshevik leader in the Ukraine, has been heavily beaten. The dispatch adds that a number of leaders in the Makno movement surrendered.

CHAUTAUQUA GETS UNDER WAY MONDAY; SEAT SALE GOOD

The initial offering of the Xenia Chautauqua was held Monday afternoon in the big tent erected on the site of the new Central High School building on the Dadds Addition, where workmen completed the erection of the canvass and seats early Monday morning, after a start had been made Saturday evening. No work was done on Sunday.

Monday afternoon's program consisted of a concert by the Euterpean artists who will also be on the program Monday evening, together with Edwin M. Whitney, who will give a monolog "In Walked Jimmy." Tuesday's program will consist of a lecture in the morning on Education and religion, a concert by the Fisher Operatic Company and a lecture, "The Progressive Ideal," by Mr. Saltiel, the lecturer of the morning, in the afternoon, and in the evening of a lecture, "Victory," by Edward Amherst Ott and a concert by the Fisher Operatic Company.

The committee in charge of the advance seat sale is reported as being pleased with the number sold, which it is understood passed early expectations.

R. A. Garvin, superintendent of the Chautauqua arriving in the city Saturday afternoon to make final arrangements for the attraction. He said Monday morning that arrangements had been made with city officials to have the street in front of the tent sprinkled every day while the Chautauqua is showing.

REPORTS ABUNDANT GAME FISH WHERE INVESTIGATION MADE

Columbus, July 16.—Prof. Raymond C. Osborn, head of the department of Zoology of Ohio State University, who is conducting a scientific survey of fish and aquatic life in Ohio lakes and streams, for the Bureau of Fish and Game, reports an abundant hatch of large mouth bass, blue gills and sunfish, at East, West and Middle Harbors near Lakeside, where he is personally conducting investigations. He advises that these waters are well stocked with game fish and that they contain an abundance of natural food for both mature and infant fish life. Investigations conducted at Put-In-Bay by Prof. Osborn, assisted by Harry Crossley, supervisor of the Lake Erie District of the State Fish Hatchery at Put-In-Bay, and by Prof. R. V. Bangham, zoologist from Baylor University, Waco Texas, indicate that the severe cold weather accompanied by a Northeaster during the spawning season, drove many bass from their beds and the hatch was not so large as in former years. Osborn found the water well stocked with two year old bass, the result of an excellent hatch in 1913.

Under the supervision of Prof. Osborn, a staff of experts including E. L. Wilfong and W. C. Kraatz, instructors in zoology at Ohio State University are making a survey of streams and lakes in southern Ohio. Reports show that Wills Creek in Guernsey County, which was so badly polluted by factory waste, in former years that not a fish could be found in it, is coming back rapidly and fish life is returning. Due to efforts of the Bureau of Fish and Game, pollution is being eliminated in this stream. A good hatch of game fish was found in Southern Ohio waters from Columbus to Athens County.

At the Portage Chain of Lakes, near Akron, Osborn reported that too much civilization was interfering with good fishing. However, excellent conditions were found at the wilder lakes and those lakes protected by swamps and which contained natural vegetation, logs and brush, furnishing protection to fish life. Clearing up the banks of the lakes, interfering with spawning, Osborn advised. The wilder the territory, the better and more natural it is for fish life. Long Lake and Turkey Foot Lake at Akron were found to be well stocked and here conditions were excellent. A study of insect life upon which fishes feed and also of the parasites that attack fish life in Ohio waters is also being made by Prof. Osborn and his staff. A complete report will be prepared by the Bureau of Fish and Game and given to the public as soon as the investigations and research is completed.

CHAUTAUQUA ARTIST GUEST IN XENIA

Miss Lois Babb, will have as her guest Tuesday, Miss Bessie Hagemeyer, of the Fisher Operatic Company, which is on Tuesday's program of the Chautauqua being held here this week.

Miss Babb learned that Miss Hagemeyer was a former school friend and a sorority sister of hers at Dennison University, Granville, and invited her to be her guest during her short stay in this city. Miss Hagemeyer is a pianist her accomplishments with the instrument being proven by her connection with the company with which she appears on the Chautauqua.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our son Robert. We especially wish to thank the Misses Dakin for their beautiful songs, Mrs. Gansinger of Trebeins, for her help and sympathy in our time of sorrow and the Rev Pimm for his comforting words. We deeply appreciate the efficient and sympathetic service of Mr. Need. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Taylor, 7-18

Health Talks

By John B. Huber, AMMD

POISON IVY

More than 60 plants are found in the United States and Canada that may give rise to varying degrees of dermatitis. In particular, the poison ivy, the poison sumach, and poison oak, are capable of producing severe inflammations of the skin of those exposed to their influence, often without actual contact. Susceptibility appears to be permanent. Many people are immune and can handle the plants without danger. The poison ivy is probably more frequently encountered than any other of the poisonous plants. It may be distinguished from the harmless ivy by the leaf clusters. The poisonous has three leaves, the harmless has five.

The varnish used in Chinese and Japanese lacquer work is made from a variety of oak capable of causing dermatitis to susceptible people handling such articles. The eruption is of an eczema type with numerous papules and vesicles and frequently accompanied by marked swelling, especially about the face. It may be spread to various parts of the body by the hands in the early stages and probably to other people.

The disease may last from one to six weeks. The most important thing to do is to wash the affected parts immediately with soap and hot water. Many remedies have been recommended. One of the best is to mop the affected surface frequently day and night with a mixture consisting of a half ounce of zinc oxide one dram of carbolic acid, and one pint of lime water.

When a drug store is not near, benefit may be had from applications of a solution of sodium bicarbonate, one ounce to twelve ounces of water, or painting with sweet spirits of nitre—these being "home remedies" and generally available.

MOTOR CAR DEAFNESS

There is probably no other infirmity so deserving of sympathy, nor one so irreparable when once established, as chronic deafness. We may relieve such deafness, and to some, perhaps a considerable extent, arrest its advance, but we cannot cure it. Eyestrain and errors of refraction make themselves manifest enough especially after 40, and the presbyopes among us promptly enough get fitted with the corrective glasses when they find they cannot comfortably read their evening newspaper. On the other hand, most people with defective hearing give little heed until they realize, by accident perhaps that they cannot hear the watch or the clock tick as they were wont to do; or until there is a roaring in the ears or some dizzy spell.

The ear mechanism is extraordinarily complicated and delicate and in the ways we have considered it is peculiarly affected by catarrhs of the nose and throat and by inflammation extending to it by way of the Eustachian tube. Most chronic deafness results indeed, from oft repeated colds in the head, from congestion in the upper air passages and by reason of the migration from the mouth and nose, through the tube mentioned, of many varied micro-organisms. Or inflammation will close up that tube thus abolishing the equilibrium which ought naturally to obtain from between the air inside the ear drum and the surrounding atmosphere.

Tobacco and alcohol induce, to keep up catarrh and thus play their sinister part in causing deafness. Racing at abnormal speed in clouds of dust is responsible for "motor-car deafness," for the human animal has not yet evolved so as to become inured to this. And the thousand and one noises without which, it would seem civilization cannot be maintained, tend to blunt the hearing sense; not only by the nervous fatigue (reacting on the auditory nerve) which those noises produce, but also by the actual mechanical destruction those cacophonous vibrations work upon the infinitely delicate and labyrinthine elements of the hearing apparatus.

Think for the moment of the microscopic piano there is within the internal ear, of which the keys number some 3,000 each having its vibrating cord which, with its fellows, ter-

FEELS HAPPY AS BOY IN MORNING

"When It Comes To Building Up a Man Tanlac Has the World Beat," Says Downey.

"When it comes to building a man up and making him feel fine and dandy, Tanlac has the world beat," said F. L. Downey, motorman for the N. Q. T. Railway Co. on the run between Kent and Ravenna whose home address is 156 Erling Ave. Cuyahoga Falls Ohio.

"I was going down hill pretty fast when I started on Tanlac. My stomach was in a bad fix and no matter how careful I was about what I ate, I suffered agonies from indigestion. For a long time I didn't eat either meats or sweets. It's not surprising I lost strength right along. Then I had night sweats and they pulled me down even worse. In the mornings it was all I could do to get out of bed and go to work.

"Well, sir, Tanlac must have been made for cases like mine, because it wasn't long before it had me feeling like a new man. It gave me a corking good appetite. I eat anything now and am never bothered with indigestion. Not only that I've gained ten pounds. The night sweats are gone, too. I sleep like a top and feel so fine in the morning I jump out of bed as active and as happy as a boy. It's great to feel like I do now and I tell everybody I hear complaining to go get Tanlac. It's the only medicine I ever know of or heard of that I am willing to recommend, but I know what it can do."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill.

minutes in the auditory nerve! It is wise to misuse such an instrument!

TATTOO MARKS.

Could you tell me how to remove tattoo marks I have tried drug stores and they don't seem to know of anything. I have one or two marks on my arm and they don't look nice in company. I should be very much obliged if you could tell me how to get rid of them.

Answer—If you know of no skin specialist in your city, ask at a hospital. I do not think the marks can be removed.

JAPANESE SEEKS TO ADOPT WHITE CHILD; REFUSED

Denver—International relations and questions of citizenship and Christianity were involved in a case before Judge Ben B. Lindsey in Juvenile Court here when application was made for the adoption by an English woman, with a Japanese husband, of an American-born baby.

The citizenship of 15-month-old Mildred Lorraine Jones, daughter of an American mother, hung in the balance while Judge Lindsey pondered over the application of Sen Okazaki, Japanese, for adoption of the child.

According to immigration officials little Mildred, if permitted to go to the Okazakis, would lose her American citizenship and could never regain it except by marriage to an American citizen.

Not willing to take the responsibility of robbing the child of its birth right, Judge Lindsey refused to grant the application for adoption, but declared the baby a dependant of the court and awarded its temporary care to Mr. and Mrs. Okazaki.

Judge Lindsey declared that the child's natural mother had forfeited her rights by neglecting the baby. The mother, now Mrs. Alta Jones Duff, announced that she would continue to fight for her baby and has appealed to Federal officials for the restoration of the child to her.

Witnesses testified that the Okazakis had cared for little Mildred from the time she was a few weeks old and had given her the best of treatment. Testimony was offered by Mrs. Okazaki, a cultured and educated woman to the effect that the fatherhood of Mildred was uncertain, and that the mother had consented in writing to the adoption of the baby when it was first taken by the Okazakis. Mrs. Okazaki stated that she had lost a son born several years ago and related a touching story of her desire to have Mildred to fill the void caused by the death of the boy born of her Japanese husband.

Akazaki is an ex-officer of the Japanese army, a graduate of Tokyo University and has taken courses in Columbia and Denver Universities. He is now engaged in business in Denver.

In his testimony he described how through the loss of his son, born to his Christian wife, he had embraced Christianity and said that he would have become an American citizen long ago if it had been possible.

HOME GROWN CORN NOW ON MARKET

Piqua, July 18.—For the last two market days, a great amount of home grown sweet corn was on sale. The corn was rather diminutive in size, but was well filled out and of a very good quality.

The general price was thirty cents per dozen, which is very reasonable for this time of the year. The small size of the corn is due to the dry weather.

The farmers handling this product report that there is not a very heavy demand for sweet corn as yet.

HOTEL BUILDS SIX METHODIST CHURCHES WHEN TORN DOWN

Chicago, July 18.—The story of the conversion of a sixty-room hotel here is being cited as an example of what centenary money is doing for the Methodist Church.

The conversion of the old Winchester hotel, formerly a gay fashionable hostelry which had built at the time that Medford, Wis., was the headquarters of a big lumber industry, in a long chain of temples of Methodist worship, is a romance that residents of the little town of Medford will delight in recounting for generations to come.

A colorful incident in the story will be that surrounding the disposal of the old hotel bar which, in the Winchester's prime was the hub of Medfordian conviviality and wit. In converting the entire hotel and all the furnishings to spiritual uses, it was considered no less than frugal that the deserted bar and all its fittings should be preserved and readapted to fighting the very forces which they had once ministered to.

In 1920 the Methodist centenary committee bought the hotel at a cost of $6,500. The hotel was torn down and used to build six new churches and remodeled four. Four new parsonages were built out of its material and four remodeled and enough material still remained to build a gym, furnished fifteen parsonages and twenty rooms at Rice Lake Hospital.

The outlay of $6,500 produced nearly $100,000 of church property. A church and social center is now being erected on the site of the hotel.

Robert J. Taylor.

Robert J., son of Curtis and Sylvia Taylor was born Feb. 26, 1921 and departed this life July 10 aged 4 months and 14 days. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving Father and Mother, five brothers and one sister.

Another little lamb has gone To dwell with him who gave; Another little darling babe, Is sheltered in the grave. God needed one more angel child, Amidst his shining band, And so he bent with loving smile and clasped our darling's hand.

The little crib is empty now, The little clothes laid by, A mother's hope, a father's joy In death's cold arm doth lie.

Go little pilgrim to thy home, On yonder blissful shore; We miss thee here but soon will come Where thou hast gone before. 7-18

TOO MUCH

The epitaph on the tomb of tragedy is—Too Much!

The ordinary physician could easily diagnose nearly every one of his cases by the simple phrase—Too Much.

People worship too long before superlatives. Too much applause, too much attention, too much pleasure, too much money, too much dining.

I was shocked to hear the other day that a very useful man, whom I knew, had just died. They told me what was supposed to be the cause, but I said in my mind that it was too much work without recreation and too much food for his tired body could not handle that took him away all too soon.

There can be too much of anything.

Splendid living lies in a balanced plan. Play is essential to sound work. Too much business man kills the good father, and too much house and dirt chasing stops the tide of love in a home.

The world at this time lies prone and fearful. There has been too much war!

It is possible to read too much, to think too much, to work too much, to play too much. Excess is the cruellest robber in the world.

Trust the man with a healthy hobby. Select for your friend the one who does not think too much of himself.

Beware of the person who talks too much!

They say that you cannot have too much of "a good thing." But you can. Too much deadens and destroys. It takes away all appreciation.

Even a hero's life is shrouded with obscurity. And he whom we acclaim loudly today, tomorrow we pass unnoticed on the street.

Most of the great of the earth are remembered by but a few acts. Try not to do too much. Try not to be too much. There is at least one reservation, however. You cannot give too much of what you are—or love too much!

TAX RATE LOWERED BY CLARK COUNTY

Springfield, July 18.—Clark county, which was one of the few counties reappraising real estate last year, has won in legal action to reduce its tax rate on realty just ten per cent, based on the fact that other Ohio counties did not reappraise and the subsequent slump in valuations.

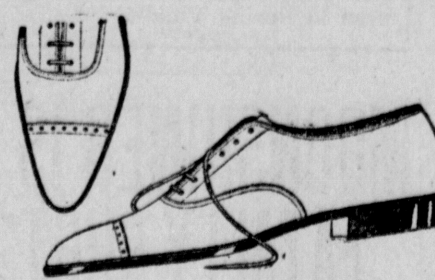

The state tax commission fought the action of the Clark county commissioners but the supreme court refused a writ of mandamus asked by the tax commission.

The cut will reduce the property value of Clark county from $151,000,000 to $135,900,000.

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF BRIDE-ELECT.

For the pleasure of Miss Mary Katherine Geyer, whose marriage will be an event of Thursday evening, Miss Marjorie Flynn was a charming hostess at her North Detroit street home Monday morning. A miscellaneous "show" featured the morning, and the gifts presented to the bride-elect were very lovely.

The attractive rooms were arranged with cool looking garden flowers. The girls occupied themselves with an interesting contest, and with writing in rhyme, steamer letters containing good wishes and admonitions to the bride, which were given her in sealed envelopes, to be read when she is on her way to China on her honeymoon.

An ice and other cooling refreshments were served. Out of town guests were Mrs. William Smith of Cuyahoga Falls, who is the guest of Mrs. Herman Ankeney, Mrs. Curtis Geyer, of Boston, Miss Dorothy Turrell of Cleveland, and Miss Ruth Eastman, home guest of the Flynn's. Thirty-five girls enjoyed the morning at the Flynn home.

MONEY SQUANDERED IN ROAD BUILDING DECLARES SENATOR

Columbus, July 18.—Senator Charles Brand, of Urbana, wealthy farmer and manufacturer, and Republican leader in his district, recently issued a broadside denouncing the high expenditure for road improvements and demanded a halt.

He asserts that $40,000 a mile highways will bankrupt the state, and asks that the prices be reduced, if necessary, by cessation of work.

The utterance caused a sensation here. It was not intended, it was made plain, to be especially critical, of the Ohio Highway Department and it had no partisan nor factional aspect. While the utterance is a personal one Senator Brand is speaking for others and the statement is intended to launch a general campaign upon the subject of road costs.

Highway interests, it is noted here, have been in anticipation of such a move, for they have begun a drive to rid the business of added costs, which were making for higher and higher expenditures for roads.

The statement was made by Senator Brand after he had failed to obtain acceptance of a plan whereby gravel roads might be constructed.

It is his contention that unless costs are reduced the state of Ohio should follow the examples of Illinois and Indiana and temporarily suspend road construction.

"Deflate the road costs," is the slogan that has been adopted. In making the statement, Senator Brand has anticipated action by numerous rural organizations which have been making studies of the problem. He urges that unless something is done, the organized material men and contractors will continue to receive extraordinary prices. In his statement, he said:

"We are squandering money on public roads with war-time recklessness."

"The State Highway Department is bragging about spending more than $2,000,000 on one pay roll, the largest in the history of road building."

"July 22 the department will open bids on $4,000,000 of road work, each mile of new road, estimated to cost right at $40,000."

"A cost of $40,000 a mile for any county road is prohibitive. The interest on a mile is $2,400. The depreciation counting 20 years as the life of the road is $2,000 a mile and repairs will make the total upkeep around $5,000 on each mile of such road."

"We can stand a few miles of such road, then we'll stop and do with our roads or face financial disaster."

WEEKLY REPORT ON CROP CONDITIONS

By C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician.

The condition of Winter Wheat in Ohio on July 1st is estimated to be 75 percent of normal which suggests a crop of 34,000,000 bushels according to the report issued by C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician. This is a decline of 11 percent since June 1st and is largely a result of the hot dry weather during the month of June following the earlier rapid growth of the wheat plants.

The condition of 75 percent compares with 63 percent on July 1st last year and with a condition throughout the United States of 77 percent this year and 80 percent last year.

The United States decline during the month of June was only 1 percent as compared with the 11 percent decline in Ohio during the same period. The ten year average condition on July 1st for both Ohio and the whole United States is 81 percent of normal. The yield in Ohio last year was 28,300,000 bushels and for the United States the crop of Winter Wheat was 577,760,000.

The condition of Spring Wheat in Ohio is 74 percent of normal while the condition throughout the United States is 81 percent as compared with 88 percent last year and a ten year average of 85 percent.

Readers of this report should bear in mind that it is based on the reports of about 1500 experienced correspondents throughout the State who state conditions as they existed on July 1st which was before threshing was underway any extent. The August 1st report will show yields per acre and quality of wheat and threshing will be well along by the date of this report.

Carryover of Wheat On Farms Fairly Large
The amount of wheat remaining on farms July 1st through the United States is estimated a 6.9 percent of last year's crop or 54,135,000 bushels as compared with 47,620,000 on July 1st, 1920 and a five year average of 29,328,000 bushels.

Oats Condition Declines 12 Points
The decline in the condition of Oats from 84 percent one month ago to 72 percent on July 1st is 84 percent for Ohio and 85 percent for the country as a whole. The State condition one year ago was 81 percent and the ten year average is 84 percent. The production last year was 71,339,000 bushels and the United States production for 1920 was 1,526,000,000 bushels.

Corn Acreage Slightly Less Than Last Year
A corn acreage of 3,660,000 acres is indicated from the reports of correspondents. This compares with 3,735,000 acres last year. Acreage throughout the United States is estimated at 108,900,000 acres compared with 104,600,000 acres last year.

Corn condition is placed at 87 percent in Ohio and 91 percent in the United States as compared with an Ohio ten year average of 85 percent and a United States ten year average of 84 percent. The condition July 1, 1920 was 86 percent in Ohio and 85 percent in the United States. Last year's production for Ohio was 141,608,000 bushels and for the United States, 2,798,000,000 bushels.

A dependable forecast is hardly possible at this early stage in the growth of corn but on the basis of July 1st conditions and on the assumption of average conditions throughout the growing season the indications are for an Ohio crop of 144,900,000 bushels and a United States crop of 3,123,000,000 bushels.

White Potato Condition Only Fair
The condition of potatoes is estimated at 82 percent for Ohio and 83 percent for the United States. The Ohio condition one year ago was 88 percent and the ten year average is 87 percent. Potato acreage is placed at 112,000 acres as compared with 115,000 last year. Based on present conditions and acreage a crop of about 10,500,000 bushels is forecast for Ohio and 377,000,000 bushels for the United States.

The condition of Sweet Potatoes in Ohio is 89 percent and the acreage shows from 7 to 10 per cent reduction from last year.

Tobacco Acreage One-Third Less Than Last Year
The acreage planted to tobacco in Ohio is 42,200 acres compared with 63,000 last year. The greatest reductions are in the Ohio River and Eastern Ohio sections. The condition of tobacco is 76 percent compared with 85 percent last year.

The United States condition is 72 percent. In the United States the estimated acreage is 1,337,000 compared with 1,894,000 acres last year.

FORD CHOPS RATE FOR FREIGHT ON D. T. & I. RAILROAD

Columbus, O., July 18.—First evidences of a return to "normalcy" so far as railroad rates are concerned were seen here today when the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railway, owned by Henry Fd filed with the Ohio public utilities commission a new rate schedule, effective August 20, providing for a horizontal 20 percent reduction in all station to station rates along its line.

Whether or not the action of the railroad owned by the Detroit manufacturer will be followed by other roads was not known today, although members of the state utilities commission stated that too far no other railroad had scheduled general rate reductions.

The new schedules mean cheaper coal, sand, gravel and other bulky commodities to a number of important cities in Ohio and Michigan, including Detroit, Toledo, Lima, Springfield and Ironton. The reduction per ton on these products to Toledo and Michigan points will run as high as 50 cents per ton.

MISS GEYER IS GUEST OF HONOR.

Twenty girls were the guests of Miss Miriam Galloway Friday afternoon, honoring Miss Mary K. Geyer. The girls hemmed dust cloths which were presented to Miss Geyer, and also wrote verses which were placed in the packages with the dust cloths, and are not to be read until the bride is settled in her future home in China.

James F. Waugh, 34 farm hand, was killed at 12:40 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, when the automobile in which he was riding with his brother-in-law William Stanford, overturned on the Clifton pike, near the Elder Tuttle farm.

Stanford suffered a broken collar bone and body bruises. He will recover. Waugh suffered a broken neck. He was a brother of Mrs. Ocie Deselen, whose two children with Mrs. Mary Deselen, a sister-in-law, were killed in an automobile accident at a Springfield railroad crossing recently.

The car turned over when Waugh, the driver, became excited after turning out to permit a machine to pass, it is said.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS VERDICT GIVEN AFTER POST MORTEM

A verdict of accidental death by drowning has been rendered by Coroner Ernest Lininger of Fayette county in the case of William Schelechter, who lost his life in a pond in a gravel pit near Peasant View the evening of July 8.

Schelechter's companion at the time of the drowning declared that the boat was accidentally overturned and that while both occupants were unable to swim, he struggled to shore. He gave the alarm, but it was impossible to resuscitate Schelechter after he had been in the water half an hour.

A post mortem was ordered by Coroner Lininger and following the funeral services, the body was removed from the casket and the examination conducted by physicians. Coroner Lininger declared that owing to the fact that the body had been embalmed for three days the post mortem findings were indefinite. Schelechter was buried at Jamestown.

CONDUCT FUNERAL MONDAY MORNING

Funeral services for Henry Pittstick, were held at St. Brigid's Church, at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, the Requiem High Mass being sung by the Rev. Albert A. Burke.

A large concourse of friends and relatives, many from a distance, attended the services. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery, the pallbearers being Henry and Lee Balensiefer, Henry, Earl, Paul and Anthony Pistick.

CHAUTAUQUA GETS UNDER WAY MONDAY

SEAT EDITORIAL

The initial offering of Chautauqua was held in the big tent at the site of the new and The Morning Republican, published daily except on Sunday, at the School building on Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chautauqua, where work was done.

Monday afternoon, Select List" Daily Newspapers, Robert E. Ward Foreign Editor, Chicago Office No. 1, South Wabash Avenue, New York, where work was done.

Monday afternoon, Select List" Daily Newspapers, Robert E. Ward Foreign Editor, Chicago Office No. 1, South Wabash Avenue, New York, where work was done.

R. A. Garvin, arding one day last week expressed the conviction that Chautauqua should have been made into a token of friendship between the United States and the world.

REPORT GAME INVESTIGATION

Columbus, Ohio, July 17.—A group of editors who went to the White House with an editorial chair, wrought from the hulk of American frigate Revenge, the President for the first time the confidence with which he will approach the peace and disarmament involved in the coming conference. The revelation of his personal feelings came in his discussion of the significance in the name ship and the worn-out theory of international relations which the name typified.

THERE'S ALWAYS SOME BLAMED THING TO DELAY A PICNIC.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Clarence McPherson has been enjoying a visit the past week from his college chum, Mr. Earl Rosebuck.

Messrs. Ernest Schmidt, and Walter McGervey returned this morning from a visit to the Pan American exposition which they have been for several days, taking in a very thorough manner.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

News—pure news—among other things should be interesting, timely and useful.

What sort of interesting, timely and useful information is it that enables people to catch trains, lease apartments, find jobs and save time, labor, money and worry generally?

Advertising. If there is any one section of the day's news which reaches with practical and immediate effect the advertising.

First of all, of course, advertising is an economic force—a simple reducer of distributing costs. But don't forget, too, that it is the news quality of the advertising which makes it so efficient in its intended work.

Those who do not realize the news value of advertising should watch the average woman open her paper first at the advertisements of local merchants.

The manufacturer's story of a new kitchen labor-saving device is real news to the busy housewife.

If you do not feel the need for the advertised books or spare time educational courses, turn to the news from a substantial tradesman who is prepared to offer you some unusual fall clothing values.

Here is advertised a cold-weather motoring oil which will save hours of delay and dollars in consequent waste. That kind of news has a real appeal for the owner of a truck fleet and his drivers. There is the advertisement of an able scientist and manufacturer who will protect thousands of human lives by means of his new antiseptic. News less important can be found on the front page.

It is worth noting here that only the best of the world's goods are consistently advertised. Without unusual merit there is no news and without news advertising ceases to serve its purpose.

It is the news quality of American advertising, which more than any other influence, enables us to keep abreast of the real civilization. By means of it we gain quick access to the new ideas and products of human ingenuity which help our people to lead the world in standards of civilized living.

Read the advertisements. In every day's quota of advertising news there is something of value for everybody. At a time when money is expected to produce constantly increasing values it is doubly necessary that we read the only sort of news which enables us to buy efficiently.

Advertising has been proved time and again to be an incomparable agent of economy—for the manufacturer, for the distributor and for the buyer.

But you can't realize the full value from advertising unless you look upon it as you look upon any other sort of news, reading it regularly and then buying with the confidence that comes of a knowledge of the best markets.

Styles
BY LENORE

Of course one must expect her to face the other way when the most interesting part of her frock is in the back. The ingenious arrangement of the stripes give it individuality.

and provides an irresistible excuse for a last-minute addition to the vacation trunk. In the front the neck line is becomingly straight across, and all the lines take the horizontal direction, with the exception of the short upper section of the skirt which in front looks like a yoke. Two tiny ivory ball buttons link the neck together where it opens so attractively behind, and larger buttons trim the skirt. The color of the material is raspberry and white and the softly knotted girdle is of batiste.

PATTERN NO. 211

A pattern for the above model (No. 211) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36, 38 or 40, by sending to Lenore, 3 West 40th Street, New York City, your name, address the number of this pattern and the size required and 25 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks.

REEVES BUYS OUT WEIR GROCERY STORE

Raymond Reeves, has purchased the grocery on West Second street, known as the Burt Weir grocery, the deal taking place last week.

The property was bought from its last owner W. W. Tucker, of Middletown, who owned and operated the stand two months after he purchased it from John Reed, who purchased it from Mr. Weir. Mr. Reeves assumed charge of the grocery last Monday, and will operate it in the future, under its former plan.

Mr. Reeves was formerly a dairyman in this city, selling out his interests in that business several months ago.

SELLS INTEREST IN DAIRY BUSINESS

Omar Hagler, who has had charge of the J. Long Company cream station and dairy products agency on West Main street, for the last twenty months, has sold his business to Ed Miller.

Mr. Miller assumed charge, Monday, of the dairy products end of the business, but Mr. Hagler will remain as agent for the J. A. Long Company until August 1.

Mr. Hagler has not made any definite plans for what he will do after leaving the business. The new owner will operate it as formerly.

THE FICTION SOLACE.

Time never drags along with me; my days are bright as days can be. When I have done my daily task I get a book and loll and bask in comfort in my easy chair, and bid good-by to every care. The rain may fall, the wind may blow, there may be nineteen kinds of snow, the storm fiend may be on a foot, but I don't care a single hoot. Tomorrow may have griefs to burn, some new distress at every turn; but future woe can't make me quail, for I've a fine jim-corking tale, of camps and courts and bygone kings, and swords and guns and kindred things. And I am living in a day that's dim with dust and all its fuss, and I forget while reading thus the work-day world with all its ills, and all its problems and its ills, its taxes and its doctor bills. I know so many friends who yawn when evening hours are drawing on, they know not how they'll kill the time, whose dragging gait appears a crime. They're tired of everything in sight; there's not a thing to do at night; they're tired of going to the shows, and clubbdom has its drouthy woes, they're tired of cards and crokinole, and there is sorrow in each soul. And so they gasp and groan and yawn, while I read on, and on, and on.

WHITE HANDS
The problem of keeping the hands soft and white is always a complicated one because in the winter they dry and chap, and in the summer they become brown and sunburned. Most of us hate wearing gloves always in the summer, and many of us find that in the winter not even thick gloves are a sufficient protection.

To make it still worse, it is hard to rub oil on the hands during the day because of the dust the oily skin will collect and it is impossible to use oil at night without staining the bed clothes, unless one is willing to sleep with gloves on. Altogether the inconveniences are so many that most women, without meaning to go it neglect their hands shamefully.

Obviously the best thing is to find some lotion that is not greasy. Personally I have found the Honey Almond Lotion best for this because it bleaches the skin and keeps it white and is not sticky nor greasy. It is a bit difficult to make, but not impossible so. Here is my formula:

HONEY ALMOND LOTION
Quince seed ..... 1-3 ounce
Cold Water ..... 1 pint
Steep this overnight for 12 hours, strain without pressure; then take one ounce of sweet almonds, blanch these in hot water and while they are still warm and wet, pound them fine. To this milky substance, which must be strained of course, add:
Glycerine ..... 1 ounce
Boric Acid ..... 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds ..... 4 drops
Pure honey ..... 1-2 ounce
X. Y. Z.—Deep breathing will do much to counteract the effects of

WOMAN REPORTS MAN KIDNAPPED ON CINCINNATI PIKE

Although police instituted a search that carried them as far as Spring Valley, no clue was found to the whereabouts of three alleged bandits who are said to have struck a man on the head near the Hooen & Allison mills on Cincinnati Avenue at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, threw him into a machine and speed off on the Cincinnati pike.

The report was received by Night Chief Mangan at Police Headquarters from a nightwatchman at the H & A. Mills, who said the attack had been reported to him by a Mrs. Blakey, who lives in the neighborhood, and who claimed to have seen the affair. She said the three men stopped their machine and alighted, and attacked the man who was walking along the sidewalk. They then threw him into the automobile, she said, with his feet hanging out of the tonneau, and speeded the machine up, going towards Spring Valley.

Patrolmen Jones and Simms in another automobile gave chase as far as the river bridge on the other side of Spring Valley, but never saw the alleged bandit machine. The officers returned by way of the New Burlington pike in the hope of catching the bandits on the detour, but their efforts were unavailing.

TO HEAR PROPOSAL FOR MERGING OF LOCAL TELEPHONES

The proposed merger of the Springfield and Xenia Telephone Company, known as the Citizens Line, with the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, will be heard by the state public utilities commission Tuesday, in Columbus.

The proposed merger would affect about 20,000 telephones in Xenia and Springfield and throughout Greene and Clark counties it is said. It is said that the merger can now be consummated through the signing of President Harding of a bill recently passed by both houses of Congress.

The federal laws as passed and signed by the president compels, it is said, with a resolution passed by the Ohio general assembly recently of which Senator A. W. DeWeese of Piqua was author, and asking for federal action.

HOME BREWS WIN TWO FAST GAMES

The Home Brews, that baseball aggregation with the mouth watering name, performed the old iron man stunt at the park on Washington street, Sunday afternoon by walloping the A. B. C.'s Xenia's fast colored nine, 25-12, and then hanging the gloom-cloth on the South Side Athletics, by a 6-5 score.

The pastime was viewed by a big crowd that enjoyed the twin exhibition of the national sport immensely.

Roy Ary, veteran moundsman, did duty for the Brews in the opener with the colored team, but his teammates piled up such a lead behind him that he had little need to uncork his delivery much. Anderson, who pitched for the colored boys, was touched rather freely throughout the game. The lineup of the first game: A. B. C.'s—Anderson, p.; Vaughn, c.; Ward, ss.; Cunningham, 1b.; Powers, 2b.; Glass, 3b.; Ewing, 4b.; Dickey, cf.; Brown, rf.; Home Brews—R. Ary, p.; Pritchard, c.; M. Leahy, ss.; Owens, 1b.; Downs, 2b.; Houk, 3b.; W. Bath, 4b.; C. Bath, cf.; Jones, rf.

The second contest proved a more complicated affair to win but consistent ability to connect with the offerings of Regan, enabled the Brews to ice the set-to. With a 5 to 2 lead safely pocketed at the opening of the fifth, the Athletics garnered three runs that knotted the count, in the fifth stanza. In the last half of this period, however, the Brews untangled the mess by driving home one run and the game was called. The lineup: Home Brews—Bayliff, 3b.; Owens, 1b.; Smith, 2b.; Leahy, ss.; Houk, cf.; Seifert, c.; Jones, p.; Cronan, rf.; Swartz, cf.; Athletics—Schwab, 1b.; Woolary, 3b.; Hurley, ss.; Yeakley, 2b.; Gundy, rf.; Lone, c.; Jack, lf.; Douthett, cf.; Regan, p.

Mother Saved Her Baby

From Skin Suffering by use of Sykes Comfort Powder

Ashaway, R. I. — "With a large family of children and 17 grandchildren I have had a wide experience and I want to tell mothers that I have never found any powder that would keep a child's skin so free from chafing, itching, scalding, rashes and all irritations as Sykes Comfort Powder. There is nothing like it to heal the skin." Mrs. Charles A. Brown, Ashaway, R. I.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. For twenty years it has been used and endorsed by physicians and mothers, and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

CROWING HENS WILL NEVER LAY DECLARE POULTRY EXPERTS

Sharpen the axe for the crowing hen.

This was one of the first rules laid down before 175 poultrymen who attended a culling school, just concluded at Ohio State University. Many ways were given of judging whether a hen would or would not lay. Hens that stop clucking and take to crowing were put to the head of that class which never will lay.

One such hen which "had turned a rooster" was exhibited before the school, not as a curiosity, but as typical of around three percent of the birds of Ohio. Although such individuals are often among the best looking birds in the flock, the poultry experts said, they are absolutely worthless as layers. They are sure to stop laying when they start to crowing, and should then be killed.

Thirty-seven county agents were among those who attended the school and received the latest information on how to pick from the flock the low producers. In general, the class was advised to suspect of spending too much time away from the nest fat hens and hens with yellow shanks. Advanced stages of molting, particularly when accompanied with a contracted comb and wattles and with a dry, contracted abdomen and vent, were also given as sure indications of low production.

The 37 county agents who attended the school will give demonstrations of the method in their home communities during the next six weeks.

Efficient Housekeeping

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S INDOOR DRESS

Several of my readers have asked me to write upon the subject of the housekeeper's indoor dress. For the woman who does her own housework this question resolves itself into two heads: the work dress and the afternoon dress (I assume that the heavy part of the day's work will be done by noon—as it should be in the homes of all efficient housekeepers).

Let us consider the working costume first. What color shall it be? I believe I will surprise many by my answer to this question—white. To my own mind, a white dress is the most practical to choose for heavy work covered of course with an all-over gingham apron. For a white dress does not fade when one perspires from hard exercise; a white dress does not fade from frequent washings or from hangings in the sun after washing; a white dress, when spotted, may receive applications of all kinds of acid spot removers which would ruin a colored dress. Yes in the long run a white dress gives the best service for hard work.

And now for the question of the afternoon frock. Here we may satisfy the primitive love for color that lurks in each and every one of us. With our heavy work done, we feel justified in donning a dress of the color which becomes us, and receiving our friends or enjoying a well-earned hour with a new book.

But note that I said, "the color that most becomes us." We cannot all wear the same color with equal success. It takes a tiny woman for instance to wear one of the red and white checked gingham (red is considered a disturbing color and if worn by a stout or tall person it is rather too much in evidence.) Pink, on the other hand, may be worn by almost anybody—stout or thin, short or tall, blonde or brunette. Pink brings out the color in our cheeks and is becoming to us all. Blues of all shades are particularly well adopted to the woman whose bones or features are large; blue is considered a dignified, inconspicuous color. And greens—especially the green and white dainties—are chosen when a cool effect is desired it is nature's color and it seems to carry its coolness with it.

Cottons and linens are perhaps the most practical fabrics to choose for these indoor gresses; for moths do not attack those materials while they are stored away during the winter months and the housekeeper is sure of taking them out of her attic trunk the following spring, ready for another three or four months warm-weather service.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

VERA WANTS ONLY A HOME... AND A HUSBAND
CHAPTER 95

Toward the last of October I noticed a certain repressed excitement in Mrs. Aldrich's manner. I longed to ask her if anything unusual had happened; yet I hesitated to question her—it was something she never did, and although she never had remarked about it, I knew she disapproved of curiosity.

But I was soon destined to know. "Vera dear, I have had another letter from your husband," she said one morning giving me the letter to read. "Think it over well, dear. If I were in your place I should ask him to come here and talk things over once more."

"If I should he might insist upon my going back, and I never will! Never!—Not while Margaret is there. I mean while he lives with her."

"You are of age, dear child, and you have a home with me. Not a luxurious one, by any means, but a pleasant one. He will see that you are neither friendless or alone even though you are away from all your own people. But do as you think best. It is only a suggestion, made to perhaps bring your happiness."

I went at once to my little room to read Keith's letter. Although it was addressed to Mrs. Aldrich, rather her initials—her friend had enclosed it naturally in another envelope properly addressed—I wanted to be alone when I read it.

"My dear J. E. A.:" "When I received your reply to my letter I made up my mind that Vera never would come back to me, because of my inability to do as she suggested regarding our family arrangements. "It is foolish and unnecessary to go into reasons. She is only too well aware of them; in fact knew them shortly after we were married, and seemed perfectly satisfied that it was so."

"Through you, who are evidently in her confidence, I made another attempt to bring her to reason before it is too late."

"If she will return to me at once, before gossip has made the situation unbearable, I will do as much as I can to make her happy. I will hire her a maid of her own to look after her and her apartment I will allow her charge accounts up to a certain amount and she may choose her own clothes—that is, I will send her what she has been one of her complaints—that my sister, because of her greater experience and better judgment, has helped her in shopping. I am willing to concede these things. She may have her own car, all the things she has resented my sister having—although all at her disposal."

"I am writing to you a stranger, instead of her personally, in the hope you may induce her to listen to reason. If you will send me her address I will write her personally."

"With many thanks for the service I have asked,

"Sincerely,

"Keith Sanderson."

I sat long with this letter in my lap. "Through you I make another attempt to bring her to reason."

That sentence rang in my mind. I had been reasonable. He was the unreasonable one. I smiled bitterly as I read that I might now have a maid of my own, buy my own clothes, even have a car. Did Keith know me so little as to think my happiness depended upon the possession of such things? They had helped me to be more miserable, but were far from being the cause of my unhappiness. That went far deeper. My rights as a wife, a home life of my own, his love and attention—these were the things I was fighting for; the reason why I could not endure my life longer.

How could he think me so petty? As I read this letter over and over, each time it seemed colder, less as if he really cared personally whether I returned or not. He feared gossip. I wondered, how he had explained my absence up to now. I had been gone nearly seven months. Margaret had probably coached him in some sort of a story to account for me. That I had gone home, was all something of that sort.

As usual the thought of Margaret stole me against Keith. Had he told her what he had offered me? Did she also think me so petty as to accept such a compromise?

"Never!"

If he had my address he would write me personally—what was there to say? He still refused to make a home for me, although I had offered in the letter I left for him, to live in the simplest, most inexpensive way, in spite of his being a rich man. I cared nothing for the luxurious home in which we had lived. I wanted him, his time, his love, and also I longed to serve him. To cook his favorite dishes as Erma did for Jim. To keep his home and look after his comfort.

Not a very high ambition I imagine many might think—but it was the one longing of my soul. A husband my husband. A home of my own.

It was in this frame of mind that I went down to Mrs. Aldrich.
